An introduction to botiss dental biomaterials

Abstract

Patient safety, ease of use alongside reliable and predictable treatment results are always our first priority. The product portfolio of botiss dental biomaterials have proven success for safety, efficacy, and reliability in not only clinical work but also a wealth of preclinical and clinical studies.

In this course we will cover:

- Soft and hard tissue regeneration as a whole
- Why botiss?
- An overview of the complete soft and tissue regenerative portfolio – detailing chemistry / biology information and clinical use/s for each product.
- botiss membrane pins

Learning objectives

During this lecture and hands on we will discuss the science, clinical indications, and treatment objectives behind choosing the correct regeneration products on a case-by-case basis.
